Are you stressed out during this summer? Feel like you are running on empty? Nervous about an upcoming surgery or medical procedure, or recovering from an illness or injury? A new Barter Systems client offers a service called Healing Touch: it's like acupuncture, but without needles. Developed by nurses and practiced in hospitals all over the world, Healing Touch sparks your body's own "spontaneous" healing response. During a Healing Touch session, you will feel the stress and tension melting out of your body: stress hormone levels will be decreased, and the relaxation response will increase. For more information, see www.daphnewhite.com."
