Excerpts from the internet regarding Marketing Plans.

Basic questions that several of BSI's Advertising Agencies can address.

What are my sales /profit goals? How many transactions will I need to reach these goals? What have been my most successful marketing tools? What motivates customers to purchase products and services like mine? Is there sufficient demand to make my business profitable? What are the significant weaknesses that could affect my business? What makes my products and services better than my competitor's? What is the single most important message about my business? What will each message and method of delivery cost? Which marketing method is most affordable / cost effective? Who in my business is going to advise, create, and implement the plan? How will I know what each component produces? How will I measure the effectiveness of A plan?
